

John P. Springston, CIH, CSP, MS

SANDLER OCCUPATIONAL MEDICINE
ASSOCIATES, INC.

OVERVIEW

Mr. Springston joined SOMA in 2004 as a Senior Industrial Hygienist. He has been a Certified Industrial Hygienist since 1993 and holds a sub-specialty certificate in Indoor Environmental Quality. He has over twenty years of experience in recognizing, evaluating and controlling employees' exposures to health hazards at their workplace. He had participated in and overseen hundreds of indoor environmental quality studies, both investigative and proactive, in over 50,000,000 square feet of building space. In addition, he has worked on multiple other projects including exposure assessments, microbial contamination evaluations, exposure modeling, quantitative risk assessments and research for various clients including, but not limited to, regulatory agencies, legal firms, commercial and residential facilities, museums, health care facilities, surface quarries and small and large-scale industries.

EDUCATION

- Bachelor of Science, Environmental Biology, Southampton College, Southampton, NY
- Master of Science, Environmental Health Science, Hunter College, New York, NY

NOTED ACHIEVEMENTS

Prior to joining SOMA, Mr. Springston spent over two years at the World Trade Center site where he evaluated numerous buildings at and around Ground Zero for contamination, and then designed and oversaw the remediation efforts at several different sites. He is a past-chair of the American Industrial Hygiene Association's Biosafety & Environmental Microbiology committee, as well as a full member of the Indoor Environmental Quality committee, and has served on a number of task forces including one on the role of the industrial hygienist during a pandemic. Mr. Springston was the 2001 recipient of AIHA's Kusnetz Award for achievement, excellence and leadership in the practice of Industrial Hygiene.
